CONDON TESTIFIES BEFORE GRAND JURY ON RANSOM PAYMENT

Taxi Driver Quizzed;
Jafsie Explodes
Woman's Clue

HOPEWELL, N. J., May 20.—Dr. John F. Condon, the mysterious Jafsie of the Lindbergh kidnapping, appeared before the Bronx grand jury today to tell in detail all he knew of the tragic sequence that began with the kidnapping of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., and ended with the finding of his body in a shallow grave in the New Jersey woods.

Meanwhile, state police in Hopewell continued their long distance sparring with the Rev. H. Dobson Peacock by announcing the state would gladly reimburse him for his expenses in coming to Hopewell to confront John Hughes Curtis, the Norfolk boat builder, who confessed a cruel hoax by which he kept a faint hope alive in the breasts of Col. and Mrs. Lindbergh while their baby was really dead. The Rev. Dobson-Peacock, one of two men associated with Curtis in the imaginary negotiations with the kidnapers, has refused to come here to clear up his part in the debacle.

The taxi driver who delivered the first note of the kidnapers to Dr. Condon also is to be taken on an inspection tour of the rogues' galleries of the metropolitan district to see if he can pick out the man who handed him the note.

Curtis, it was learned today, lived for a time at the Hildebrecht Hotel in Trenton with the government paying his expenses. Federal agents made the Hildebrecht their headquarters, as many as sixteen at a time having been registered there. Curtis' bills were forwarded to Washington and promptly paid. It was said. He was registered under the name of Richardson.

And while the Norfolk negotiations and the state police quarrel over alleged efforts to place responsibility for failure of the kidnap hunt on one another, the trail of the actual kidnapers and murderers of Charles A. Lindbergh Jr. grew colder.

Curtis has been fingerprinted, Schwarzkopf announced, but has not added to his confession and

TWO M. E. CHURCH BISHOPS ELECTED

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 20.—The Methodist Episcopal Church's long deadlock over the election of two new bishops is at an end with Dr. J. Ralph MaGee, of Seattle, and Dr. Ralph S. Cushman, of Rochester, N. Y., chosen on the seventh and nineteenth ballots, respectively.

Dr. MaGee, district superintendent of the northwest conference, was ordained in 1902. He has held pastorates in Sioux City, Pauline, Iowa, Boston, Brookline, Mass., and Seattle.

Dr. Cushman is pastor of the Rochester Asbury Methodist Church.

Following election of the second bishop a message from President Hoover was read to the general conference.

SCHOOL TEACHER REPORTED MISSING

AKRON, O., May 20.—Mysterious threats that preceded the disappearance yesterday of Lawson Miller, 24-year-old school teacher, puzzled police here today as they started a search for Miller at request of his young bride of less than a year.

Mrs. Miller reported that her husband failed to come home last night and that he had received two mysterious threats recently "to get out of town or it will be too bad."

"I can't understand who would be making threats to him," Mrs. Miller said. "He had no enemies, and had never wronged anyone."

LOSES LIFE FOR CALF

MARTINS FERRY, O., May 20.—Norman H. Cooper, 32, drowned in the Ohio River Thursday while trying to save a pet calf.

COIN DECIDES

NEW PHILADELPHIA, O., May 20.—Heads won when a coin was flipped to decide the Republican nominee for state representative from Tuscarawas County and Mrs. Larry A. Brown, 45, was winner.

Mrs. Brown and Oscar M. Hines, 58, of Uhrichsville, each received 1304 votes for the post in the recent election. Four counts were made but still the votes remained tied. Dr. A. H. Syler, president of the county election board tossed the coin which decided the winner.

AMELIA EARHART READY FOR OCEAN FLIGHT

THEY STILL HAVE FAITH IN HIM

Here is Mrs. John H. Curtis, wife of the socially prominent Norfolk, Va., shipbuilder, shown at the Curtis apartments in Norfolk with the two Curtis children, John, Jr., and Constance. Mrs. Curtis has maintained her faith in her husband despite his confession disclosing that all of his negotiations in the Lindbergh case were the product of his imagination. Curtis was put into jail at Flemington, N. J.

GERMAN PLANE DO-X ALSO PREPARING TO MAKE RETURN JUMP

Woman Flyer Seems Confident Of Success Of Solo Hop

ST. JOHNS, NEW BRUNSWICK, May 20.—Amelia Earhart Putnam continued for Harbor Grace at 7:23 a. m. (E. S. T.) today, from where she plans to attempt a solo flight across the Atlantic.

Lindbergh's was the first solo flight across the Atlantic. The woman flyer was the first trans-Atlantic woman passenger. She hopes to be the first woman to make the solo flight.

She narrowly averted a crack-up here yesterday on the first leg of the flight piloted by Bert Balchen, commander Byrd's pilot. They had taken off in mid-afternoon from Teterboro airport, New Jersey.

The crimson monoplane appeared to be headed for a fatal crash as it careened and bumped across the shorter runway of the municipal airport here. The plane was righted and brought to a halt while spectators gasped.

For anxious seconds the crowds feared that Miss Earhart's plane would suffer the fate that overtook Ruth Nichols when she landed here last summer. Miss Nichols' machine crashed into the woods, injuring the aviator.

But Balchen, veteran aviator who piloted Admiral Richard A. Byrd over the South Pole, brought his ship in safely. He was flying at between sixty and seventy miles an hour when he nosed under. A freshening cross wind hooked under his right wing and the Lockheed-Vega did a perilous dance over the runway.

Miss Earhart, Balchen, and Mechanic Eddie Gorski did not seem to mind the landing. Balchen said Miss Earhart's chances for success as the first woman to fly the Atlantic solo were "99 out of 100."

Miss Earhart was in fine spirits and appeared confident. Miss Earhart would not reveal her ultimate destination after she leaves Harbor Grace on her solo flight, but promised to announce it just before she starts across the Atlantic. The flight across the Atlantic is about 1,900 miles.

The trip from Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., to St. John was made in three hours and twenty-five minutes at a speed of about 180 miles an hour.

Miss Earhart's plane has a cruising radius of 3,200 miles, cruising speed of 140 miles an hour, top speed 180 miles, is equipped with three compasses and carries 420 gallons of gasoline. She estimated that the trans-Atlantic journey would require thirteen hours.

Miss Earhart emphasized that she would be guided by weather conditions in further plans for her flight. Balchen and Gorski will be in full charge of preparations at Harbor Grace.

Miss Earhart is the wife of George Palmer Putnam, New York publisher, financial sponsor of the flight.

ST. JOHNS, New Foundland, May 20.—The DO-X landed at Holyrood, in Conception Bay, at 9:19 a. m. EST today.

The ship rested on the Dildo Inlet yesterday after ploughing through a thick New Foundland fog and coming down in Trinity Bay thirty miles from Holyrood, the giant flying boat's objective.

Commander Christiansen taxied his craft into the open bay late yesterday with the intention of continuing to Holyrood, in Conception Bay. But fog and darkness were descending rapidly so the ship was brought back and moored for the night in Dildo Inlet.

MONEY IS SOUGHT

DAYTON, O., May 20.—Sue to recover $151,466 which Franklin D. Rice, former officer of the closed Union Trust Co., was alleged to have placed with W. E. Hutton and Co., was filed in common pleas court here by Ira Fulton, state bank superintendent. Rice was said to have placed the money in the name of the Dayton Savings and Trust Co., for investment purposes.

LINDBERGH FLEW ALONE TO FAME FIVE YEARS AGO ON FRIDAY

NEW YORK, May 20.—Five years ago, along in February and March of 1927, small items appeared in the papers about an unheard-of mail pilot who was going to fly the Atlantic for the $35,000 Ortg prize.

No one paid much attention to the items and the mail flier was not conceded much chance against such aviation stars as Byrd, Floyd Bennett, Fonck and others.

"Mail Pilot Files Entry For Paris Flight," C. A. Lindbergh Will Fly A Ryan Monoplane," read the headlines over his formal entry in the race.

Then, on May 20, five years ago today the country was electrified to read that the young pilot, finding the weather right, had casually climbed into his plane and started for Paris.

It was a Friday morning, just as today, when Lindbergh started down the Roosevelt Field runway at 7:51 a. m. in the "Spirit of St. Louis." The heavily-loaded plane hardly got off in safety, and watchers turned their heads when it skimmed the wires and roofs near the field, apparently doomed to disaster.

GIANT FLYING BOAT STARTS RETURN FLIGHT

The DO-X, giant German flying boat with a capacity for more than 100 persons, is expected to make its return flight to Switzerland in easy stages. After hopping off from North Beach, L. I., the big ship headed for Harbor Grace, but landed short of its objective due to fog. The Azores was its next scheduled stop. Then the craft will make the final hop to Lake Constance, whence it began its original voyage.

SENATE STILL TIED OVER TARIFF WHILE TAX BILL DELAYED

Summer Session Is Threatened In Fight Over Items

WASHINGTON, May 20.—The senate today was tied up in a double knot on the tariff question. Leaders were unable to say how long the deadlock might delay passage of the tax bill, directly needed by a federal treasury nearly $3,000,000,000 in the red.

Both friends and foes of the tariff items in the tax bill were vowing to filibuster congress into a summer session unless their views prevailed.

Senator Tydings, Dem., Md., waved before the senate a stack of 500 amendments which he declared he would introduce immediately if the oil tariff was adopted. He declared he would keep the senate in session until it had acted on every one of the items.

Senator Norris, Repn., Neb., asserted he and others in the same eventually would offer relief proposals as amendments to the tax bill.

On the other hand, Senator Thomas, Dem., Okla., met and raised Tydings' threat with an assertion that he would introduce 1,000 amendments reducing protection on eastern industry if the oil tariff was defeated.

Senator Steiwer, Repn., Ore., threatened to talk "until Thanksgiving" unless lumber was given protection.

Reports reached the capital that President Hoover might intervene with a special statement or message renewing his appeal for speedy passage of the tax bill. The White House, however, said the President's position was that congress must fight out its own battles and take the responsibility for the delay.

Nevertheless the presence at the capital of some of Mr. Hoover's advisors showed his keen interest in the situation.

Also Senator Reed, Repn., Pa., often an administration spokesman, conferred with the President yesterday and on leaving the White House declared congress should work day and night right through the national conventions if necessary to pass the tax and appropriation bills by July 1, the beginning of the new fiscal year.

It would be unprecedented for congress to sit during the conventions. But only eighteen working days remain for congress before the Republican meeting begins at Chicago on June 14.

POWERFUL GROUP OF FINANCIERS TO HELP SMALL BORROWERS

FEAR FOR CLIMBER

Nicholas Spadeveckia, above, companion of Allen Carpe, former Xenian and Theodore Koven, both lost in climbing Mt. McKinley, Alaska, with a research expedition, is also feared to have perished on the mountain. Airplanes and mountain rangers have been seeking him on the treacherous Muldrow Glacier.

BOTH PARTIES ARE AGREED ON RELIEF

WASHINGTON, May 20.—President Hoover and Democratic leaders of house and senate appeared to be in general accord today on far reaching unemployment relief plans. All the leaders promise enactment of a relief bill before congress adjourns.

There was general harmony among members of congress as to the fundamentals of the various programs. Even Rep. Laguardia, Repn., N. Y., house independent leader, lined up behind the latest proposal—that of Speaker Garner.

The speaker's program calls for a $1,000,000,000 increase in funds for the reconstruction finance corporation, a bond issue of a like amount for public works, and a $100,000,000 appropriation for President Hoover's immediate use to alleviate suffering and want.

Coalition To Extend Credit To Those Not Benefitted

NEW YORK, May 20.—A powerful coalition of financiers plans to put to work at once millions in cash or almost three billions in credit in places not yet reached by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation or federal reserve credit expansion programs.

This will mean, if plans are successful, financial relief for small borrowers in sections of the country far removed from New York City. Banks in these far sections have used funds released to them to build up their own cash reserves instead of increasing loans to needy industries, home owners or farmers.

The formation of the committee headed by Owen D. Young followed demands in many sections of the country for speeding up the credit expansion program, for drastic means of boosting prices, for speedy distribution of piled up idle funds in New York, and criticism that financial leaders were taking care of the "big fellows" only.

While members of the committee of twelve would not comment on their plans, because they were not complete, it was indicated that credit for building and loan securities and farm loan banks would be arranged. This would care for the "little fellows" not reached by the larger metropolitan banks.

Criticism, in which at least one candidate for a presidential nomination participated, had been directed at federal efforts to help these small farms and home owners, and smaller industries in the rural districts. The reconstruction finance corporation, it was claimed, was helping only the financial interests and large industries.

The criticism was denied by bankers who pointed to the fact that most loans to banks had been made to banks in rural communities, not to banks in New York and Chicago. However, it developed, the banks in the smaller communities, fearing runs had built up their cash reserves with the new funds instead of relending them to borrowers.

The federal reserve system then

NEWSPAPER ADS ARE BEST SAYS SPEAKER

CLEVELAND, O., May 20.—Newspaper advertising is the "quickest and surest way of getting a product before the public eye," according to Bryon C. Foy, president of the DeSoto Motor Corp., in an address before a conference of advertising agencies here.

"My firm spent nearly a million dollars on advertising in the last fiscal year," Foy said, "and only a small portion of that went in to magazines. The rest was for newspapers. That's the best and most direct way to sell a product."

Foy, one of the youngest automobile executives in the country, was optimistic in his outlook to the future, believing that recovery will come within a year.

THREE FICTITIOUS CHARACTERS FOUND TO BE BOOTLEGGERS

Friends In Norfolk Defend Associates Of Boat Builder

NORFOLK, Va., May 20.—John Hughes Curtis may have been approached by purported Lindbergh kidnapers in the early stages of his fantastic negotiations, according to one theory advanced here as townspeople defended his associates and pointed out discrepancies in his "confession."

The men named by Curtis in his complete statement that preceded his "confession" and later labelled by him as fictitious characters, have been revealed as real, and under indictment here as liquor runners.

Federal agents are checking their activities since January 1, 1931, and any possible connection Curtis, as a speed boat builder, may have had with them.

The three are referred to in the rambling Curtis statements given out by New Jersey police as being one man. They are Sam Goldberg, Murray Torresdale and Sam Torresdale.

Curtis claims he had no actual contacts, however, with any of the persons his confession named.

The Torresdales were indicted May 4 as part of a rum running gang of thirty-four men.

The theory gaining strength is that Curtis, admittedly on familiar terms with many rum runners, knew some of this group, and that possibly, for one reason or another, some members of a rum running gang claimed to know where the Lindbergh baby was, or claimed to have been a member of the gang.

The purpose of such a claim, as was pointed out by coast guard officials weeks ago, would be to gain freedom of action in Virginia waters for rum runners. All police officials had been requested to give negotiators for the baby's return "the right of way," and had agreed not to molest them.

In the meantime many leading citizens and churchmen of the community, have professed their confidence in the associates of Curtis, Dean Dobson-Peacock and the more reserved Admiral Guy H. Burrage.

Officials of the southern Virginia diocese and his own Christ Episcopal Church publicly announced their confidence in the dean and the admiral, the latter a vestryman in the church.

Six leading attorneys are trustees or vestrymen, and were present at the church when Dean Dobson-Peacock received the news that Curtis had blamed his "publicly seeking mania" for continuance of the negotiations.

They united in advising the dean to refuse to go to Hopewell. "No same man," they said, would do so when Colonel Schwarzkopf could easily send a man here.

"As to Schwarzkopf and his cohorts, many who are well informed in police affairs hold the view that they miserably bungled this whole business; and they are nothing more than traffic cops at best and not even good ones at that."

CANDIDATE IS NOT RELATED TO SLAYER

COLUMBUS, O., May 20.—William Backus Guitteau, of Toledo, Republican candidate for the secretary of state nomination at the recent primary, bears no family relationship to the assassin of President Garfield, whose name was spelled Guitteau.

A coincidence in names was noted after the primary election in which a Garfield and Guitteau were entered.

The family of William B. Guitteau came to Ohio from Connecticut and has a long record of achievement in state affairs. The present Mr. Guitteau has been identified with education and is the author of several books on American government and politics.

SUBPOENA WARNER

WASHINGTON, May 20.—Investigation for the senate market investigation announced today that H. B. Warner had been subpoenaed to appear before the banking and currency committee to relate the story of an alleged $10,000,000 profit in stock transactions on the Warner Brothers Moving Picture Corporation. William A. Gray, committee counsel, said he had asked Warner to be here today.

Will Rogers To Tell About Olympic Games

By MILDRED MASON
WILL ROGERS, who has a habit of poking fun at notables and getting away with it, will devote his drawing quips to the Olympic games in an hour's program Sunday over the Columbia network through WKRC, Cincinnati, at 3:30 o'clock.

This will be a personally conducted tour by Rogers himself—a peek behind the Olympic scenes. Of course, the scenes will not have been erected—but that fact will not disturb Rogers.

Governor James H. Rolph of California will invite the world to come to Los Angeles to attend the games, whose finals will be held from July 30 to August 15. The University of Southern California Trojan Band will be heard on the program.

Feature Pianist.
Harold Bauer, celebrated concert pianist, will be guest artist in a program over an NBC network through WSAI, Cincinnati, Saturday at 10:45 a. m. Bauer will be heard in solo numbers and will give a talk on music in the home.

Broadcast from Germany.
Berlin's "Comedian Harmonists", one of the most popular radio acts in Germany, will be heard in the United States over an NBC network through WSAI, Cincinnati, Sunday at 3:30 p. m. The program will feature popular European melodies.

Gigli Is Guest Artist.
Beniamino Gigli will be guest artist on a program over an NBC network through WSAI, Cincinnati, Sunday at 6 p. m. for the fourth time this season. His program will include his usual group of Neapolitan folk songs with mandolin and guitar accompaniment, and a group of classical compositions. Gigli is expected to sail for Europe soon after completing his season with the Metropolitan Opera Co., and it is expected that this will be his last radio appearance this season.

Socialists on Air.
Norman Thomas, Socialist leader, Mayor Daniel Hoan, of Milwaukee, and members of the Socialist party will speak when proceedings of the national convention of the Socialist party are broadcast direct from a meeting in Milwaukee Sunday. The program will be heard over an NBC network through WCKY, Covington, at 7 p. m.

New Orchestras on WLW.
Jan Garber and his band will be heard over station WLW, Cincinnati, for several weeks starting Saturday. Garber succeeds Henry Busse there. Jack Miles and his orchestra have succeeded Bert Lown's Orchestra at a Cincinnati hotel and will be heard regularly over WLW for a limited stay.

ASKS APPROPRIATIONS
WASHINGTON, May 20.—President Hoover in a letter to the house asked emergency appropriations of $4,535,469 for the war and interior departments, to meet deficiencies in their funds for the present fiscal year, which closes June 30.

STARS OF RADIOLAND

Ilomay Bailey

Following a highly successful tour of the middle west, Ilomay Bailey has returned to the air with her partner-in-melody, Lee Sims. This popular pair now broadcast "Piano Moods" four times each week.

Outdoor Editor Heard At B. P. W. Meeting

“KNOWING the out-of-doors is one of the best hobbies a business man or woman can have,” declared Mr. Arthur Harper, Columbus, naturalist editor of the Columbus Dispatch, when he spoke before the Xenia Business and Professional Women's Club at its May meeting in the Rotary Club rooms Thursday evening.

Using as his subject, “Hunting Orchids in Ohio,” Mr. Harper explained that forty varieties of this flower are to be found growing wild in this state. He then painted a word picture of the flower and told of many of his personal experiences while hunting the different varieties on trips throughout the state. His talk was the first of its kind ever given before the Xenia club and was one of the most interesting on the program this year.

Following the dinner Mrs. Wilbur Shultz sang a solo and short health talks were given by Miss Bertha Warner, welfare nurse at the Hooven and Allison Co., and Mrs. Guy-Harold Smith, Columbus, who has been engaged in special work here by the Greene County Public Health League. Miss Virginia Fletcher, president, presided at a short business meeting preceding Mr. Harper's talk.

Hostesses for the meeting were Miss Edith Neeld, chairman; the Misses Emma Ebright, Ruth Siferd, Laura Marshall, Jessie Caruthers and Mina St. John.

Kirby Page, brilliant young editor of The World Tomorrow, will make two addresses at the conference on international affairs at Antioch College, Sunday, on “Two Most Feared Nations: U. S. S. R. and U. S. A.” and “The Race Between War and Peace.”

Mr. Page has crossed the ocean eighteen times and visited thirty-five countries. He probably has met and talked with as many world leaders as any other American. He is a prolific writer of book and magazine articles on international affairs.

Other leaders of the Antioch meeting will be: Bennett Chapple, vice president, American Rolling Mill Co., Middletown; Bishop Paul Jones, Antioch; Walter Locke, editorial writer, Dayton Daily News; Dr. Arthur E. Morgan, president, Antioch College; Dean A. Snyder, Columbus; Dr. Howard White, professor of government and politics, Miami University.

The first address by Mr. Page will be at 10:30 Sunday morning. Ample time is being given during the day for picnic parties in the beautiful glen adjoining the campus. The feature of the afternoon will be a series of round-table conferences. An invitation is being extended to men and women in southwest Ohio interested in international affairs. The general theme of the conference is The Responsibility of the United States in World Affairs.

This meeting is held under the direction of the Ohio Branch of the League of Nations Association of which John S. Moore, Dayton, is director.

You, Too, Can Be Slender

A slender, beautiful figure is every woman's right. Fat is the foe of beauty, grace and charm. But now you need not be fat. Slenderize the French Lick way. Thousands are using this method to win back beauty, slimmness and health.

Take a little French Lick Salts in cool water every morning. French Lick Salts is a blend of the same restorative salines found in the spring waters at famous French Lick Springs. Clears away body wastes, giving food selection and exercise a chance to cut down unhealthy fat.

French Lick Salts, in cool water, is sparkling, effervescent, pleasant as a fountain beverage. Even if not overweight, take French Lick Salts once a week as a systemic regulator. Tones the system; makes you feel like a new person; safeguards against colds, biliousness, headaches and other sickness. Today, at your druggist's, buy a generous bottle, 50c.

Dr. and Mrs. S. F. Weston, Yellow Springs, left Thursday for Cleveland and after a brief visit with relatives there will go on to their summer home near Hurricane N. Y., to spend several months.

Miss Florence Stanton, Franklin, O., formerly of this city, and Mrs. Jack Rhae, Dayton, will spend the week and here as guest of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Zavey, Pleasant St.

CONDON TESTIFIES BEFORE GRAND JURY ON RANSOM PAYMENT

nounced Tuesday. The colonel said he was convinced Curtis had nothing to do with the actual kidnapping or with payment of $50,000 by Dr. John F. Condon (Jafsie) to the alleged kidnappers.

Condon, in the meantime, is suffering from the effects of his strenuous activity. He is 72 years old. Yesterday it was announced he would rest for a few days before resuming his examination of rogues gallery photographs. But he didn't rest.

The aged college instructor visited West Point to look over some records there; he made several visits to Bronx police headquarters; and he took time out to explain that a Mary G. Ford, questioned by police in another matter, was one of many who tried to borrow money from him after his name had been mentioned in the Lindbergh investigation.

Mrs. Ford is a school teacher, 45 years old, with a 19-year-old daughter. She was involved in a suit resulting from a loan and judgments previously rendered against her salary. A telephone call to Condon traced to her resulted in vague rumors that she was involved in the Jafsie negotiations.

Henry (Red) Johnson, sweet heart of the Lindbergh nurse, Betty Gow, paid a surprise visit at Newark police headquarters yesterday in company with a man helping him in publication of a book describing his experiences. He is held by federal authorities as an alien illegally in this country.

An ad Englewood, the home of Mrs. Lindbergh's family and the home of Henry Johnson, a hotel keeper declared a guest registered with her a few days before the kidnapping March 1 resembled the pictures and descriptions of Harry Fleischer, Detroit gangster sought by investigators.

The chief of police at Englewood vouched for the accuracy of her memory, which he said had helped him in identification of many suspects in other cases.

Colonel Lindbergh himself led a group in re-enacting the kidnapping as they believed the crime was committed. Colonel Henry G. Breckenridge, detectives and police assisted him.

The purpose was to attempt to determine the exact course of the kidnappers, their manner of procedure, and their manner of thinking, something that has not been done since the crime March 1.

SUFFERED FOR FORTY YEARS

Then One Lucky Day She Used Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here is great news for sufferers from constipation. Read Mrs. Kendig's voluntary letter:

“For about forty years I had been praying for a lasting remedy for constipation and its attending evils. To make it short, I ate nothing but ALL-BRAN and a little broth. Since that time (about ten years ago) I have not taken any medicine. Have been well and entirely free from constipation.”—Mrs. I. H. Kendig, R. F. D. No. 2, Lancaster, Penna.

Constipation is caused by lack of two things in the diet: “Bulk” to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN furnishes both. ALL-BRAN also furnishes iron for the blood.

The “bulk” in ALL-BRAN is much like that in lettuce. Within the body, it forms a soft mass, which gently clears out the wastes.

Isn't it much pleasanter to enjoy ALL-BRAN than to risk taking pills and drugs—so often harmful?

Two tablespoonfuls daily will overcome most types of constipation. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Serve as a cereal, or use in cooking. It is not habit-forming. Recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

SIX STUDENTS INJURED, ONE SERIOUSLY, IN AUTO CRASH

Six boys, students of Beavercreek High School were injured, one seriously and two others painfully, when their coupe figured in a collision with an auto reported to have been driven by Carl Fent, Xenia, of the Central Ohio Lines, Inc., on the Dayton-Xenia Pike, near the Beaver school Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The students injured were: Trebor Crawford, Jr., 11, residing on the Factory Road, confined in McClellan Hospital, this city, with three fractures of the pelvis and a ruptured bladder. His condition is described as serious.

James Barnett, 16, son of Homer Barnett, freshman, who suffered a broken right collar bone and also received hospital treatment in Xenia.

Peter Hermerling, 14, freshman student, had five front teeth knocked out and a cut in the upper lip that required two stitches to close.

Carl E. Brill and Dolwood Marshall, members of the high school graduating class at the commencement Wednesday night, and another Crawford boy, cousin of Trebor, received bruises.

The coupe driven by Barnett was pulling out from in front of the Schneider service station on the Dayton-Xenia Pike, headed toward Xenia, when the accident occurred. Fent's car, also occupied by another man, was going to Dayton when the two machines side-swiped. Neither car upset.

Trebor Crawford, the most seriously hurt of the sextet in Barnett's coup, was said to have been standing on a running board and was thrown violently to the road.

First aid treatment to the injured youths was administered by Dr. George Anderson, Alpha, and Dr. T. W. Troharn, Zimmerman.

stepped into the picture with an attempt to remedy the situation. It brought government securities in the open market. This released cash to banks, giving the banks still another large sum with which they could extend credit to small industries and small borrowers.

Still the banks failed to expand their credit facilities, figures indicated. And now, it is indicated, the large bankers themselves have formed their committee to coordinate efforts of the reconstruction finance corporation and federal reserve system to help the small borrower the credit expansion plans were intended to help.

In the past twelve weeks, it was explained, the federal reserve had purchased in the open market $725,000,000 in government securities. This released that amount in cash to banks for lending purposes. And that cash too would have been the basis for seven and a quarter billion dollars in credit.

But the bankers hoarded their funds in New York. Chicago banks alone had at one time last week more than $125,000,000 on deposit here, yielding less than one half of one per cent interest. New York bankers claim “good borrowers” are scarce, as they deal only with large corporations. Therefore, it is probable that much of this cash concentrated here will be divided by the newly formed committee into channels where the little borrower may get it.

The total “hoarded,” or as the bankers call it, “excess cash reserves” is $300,000,000 in banks which are members of the federal reserve system. This sum would back credit totalling ten times that amount, bankers estimate, or three billion dollars. The newly formed coalition committee would have first call on the use of such funds, it was said.

Members of the committee are: Owen D. Young, General Electric Co., chairman.

Mortimer N. Barker, New York Trust Co.; Floyd L. Carlisle, Consolidated Gas Co.; Walter S. Gifford, American Telephone and Telegraph Co.; Charles E. Mitchell, National City Bank; William C. Potter, Guaranty Trust Co.; Jackson E. Reynolds, First National Bank; Alfred P. Sloan, Jr., General Motors; Walter C. Teagle, Standard Oil Co., New Jersey; A. A. Tilney, Bankers Trust Co.; Albert H. Wiggin, Chase National Bank; Clarence M. Woolley, American Radiator Co.

The group was called together by George L. Harrison, governor of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Members of the committee are: Owen D. Young, General Electric Co., chairman.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY

As for God, his way is perfect, the word of the Lord is tried: he is a buckler to all them that trust in him.—II Samuel, xxii, 31.

SEEK NEW FORM

Some of the feminists infesting the City of Washington are discussing a "new form of marital schism" to be called a "depression divorce," but to constitute merely a temporary or fake "separation" entered into for the purpose of dishonestly evading a law enacted in the interest of fair play.

Specifically the feminists want to forestall the "husband and wife" clause in the Emergency Economy Bill under consideration by the Senate, which if adopted, will allow only one of a married pair to remain on the Federal payroll.

The scheme being hatched in the Capital City isn't precisely a new idea. People of a certain type have been getting divorces with "mental reservations" for some time so that wife and husband can both continue working at jobs under the plea that the wife is "single." Such cases might be found in this City and even where children are affected.

But that sort of racketeering in isolated instances, though contemptible in view of the number of families in which neither husband nor wife can get a job that will keep away starvation and eviction, hasn't the menace an organized plan to defy law and fair play in a "legal" way contains. The latter suggests an ethical deterioration which has taken leave of shame, and espoused effrontery.

It is almost startling also to note that the scheme for "depression divorce" apparently is being concocted by representatives of an element which, in the older days, contended that if once the members of their sex gained "emancipation" from "slavery in the home" and were permitted to vote and go into the industrial world, all life, political, social, and economic would become purified. Now they are undertaking to make a plaything of the institution which most distinguishes man socially from the lower animals.

GARNER REBUKED

Senator Moses gave Speaker Garner some sound advice when he counseled him to forget for the time that he is a candidate for the Presidency, remember that he is Speaker of the House, "and from that lofty position make a public declaration that he and his followers in the House will give support and co-operation in the early completion of the remaining part of the construction program of the President."

For many reasons, it is a pity that Mr. Garner cannot bring himself to accept the Senator's suggestion instead of continuing to snarl at President Hoover in a way that reminds one of a small boy trying to discomfort an enemy by yelling and sticking out his tongue.

The Speaker does not hurt the President by making absurd, childish attacks on him, but he does distinctly hurt himself so far as any Presidential prospects he may cherish are concerned. For whatever else it may stand for, this Nation insists that its Chief Executive shall give evidence of emotional and intellectual maturity, and refrain from cheapness in politics.

The Speaker also hurts the Nation by what he is doing because he dissipates his strength and influence at a time when he should be exerting them to bring about constructive legislation. In this he is highly culpable.

GOES AFTER LIARS

Adolf Hitler is not without originality. Among his novel contributions to the galaxy of the German nation is an Anti-Lie Bureau. The purpose of the bureau is to run down, overtake and nail statements by political enemies of the Nazis, which can be characterized as false. Candidates themselves are too busy to stop and answer every canard set in circulation about them. The Anti-Lie Bureau will take up this task and thus leave them free to start their own canards against their opponents. "Within the short period of its existence," we read, "the new bureau has succeeded in labeling almost everyone of importance in Germany a liar, with the exception of the prominent members of the party itself and President von Hindenburg."

Something of the same sort may have to be introduced in this Country if the personal defamation of public characters, conspicuous in many past campaigns, continues. At election time the ordinary standards of honesty and decency too, frequently are suspended by altogether too many people. The victims of "whispering campaigns" can't keep up with all the fabrications leveled against them. An Anti-Lie Bureau might earn its salt by putting the electoral mind straight, when it has been diverted by falsehoods to misconceptions.

FIGHTING AGAIN

Over in Bombay the Hindus and the Moslems are fighting again. A recent report on the row says that in 72 hours, 64 people were killed and 650 wounded. Mobs are looting shops and burning buildings. Big bonfires keep the town light at night so that the rioting, slaughter and destruction can continue 24 hours a day. The police have been routed and it has been necessary to call in troops to handle the situation.

The trouble began because some Moslems forgot that there was supposed to be a religious truce in their country and attacked two Hindu boys last Saturday.

This situation in Bombay provides a view in miniature of the real "Indian problem." The actual difficulty that Gandhi and his followers must meet and solve, is not the difficulty of getting Great Britain to "do the right thing," but the difficulty of getting the people of the peninsula of Hindostan to quit killing and robbing one another and live peacefully among themselves so that Great Britain will find it safe to make the concessions asked of London in their behalf. If the British should give up control of things and quit India, what has been happening in Bombay probably would soon begin to happen all over the country, except where Native princes might be able to keep order.

RATHER UNTIMELY

Maybe Huey Long's latest smart aleck stuff sounded funny to the Senators that listened to it; but it does not seem a bit funny to a Country which is waiting with anxiety and impatience for Congress to enact legislation needed in this time of depression and Governmental financial embarrassment so that business will have a chance to find itself and scramble back on its feet. The Senate Chamber is no place in which to stage a vaudeville show these days. If Senator Long doesn't know enough not to try to put one on, the other Senators ought to restrain him by whatever methods it may be necessary to use.

MY NEW YORK

By JAMES ASWELL

NEW YORK.—The Run of the Town: The scent of gardenias, hawked on corners for a nickel apiece, heavy in a Times Square mob....

What little things comprise the sense-impressions which mean New York!...The "injured spine" racket being worked in one of the larger office buildings. A rat-eyed little man, sprawled before an elevator, getting names and addresses of witnesses between lamentations.... The scowling starter who mumbled "He may chisel 25 bucks if he's lucky...."

A stifled scream and a hush in a subway under the East river as a fuse blows out....Brief, acrid smoke, and tired shoulders shrugging...."Just a fuse, Minny. Watch your purse if they start to panic....Ladies, en dishabille, shaking rugs out of fashionable East river apartment windows.... Salesmen who wheeze, "Well, what are you going to pay?" And salesmen who inquire archly, "But what is a dollar to you, sir?"... Salesmen who inspect your dress before quoting a price....Which always gets me a cut rate.... Samuel Seabury, getting into a car downtown, reminding me sharply of old pictures of Cicero.

READING MATTER Bookstores selling gaudily illustrated "classics" with a "sex angle"—advertising them as "overstocks" at cut rates, when the original editions, in some cases, have been exhausted for months and even years ago....The flaming colors of newspapers devoted solely to gossip and brought out for local sale only in orange, deep red and green tints....They come and go, with new names every week....

Carl Van Vechten, who collects anecdotes, people, curious of all varieties and royalties on his "Sacred and Profane Memories" which deals with his collecting instincts in many fields, also assembles book-jackets, having displays of the largest of displays of dust-covered in existence....There is, it may be noted, a bookstore in lower Fifth avenue, which sells the illustrated wrappers, 5 cents apiece, for the commoner varieties....Carl is often to be glimpsed there, pawing through the specimens.... The Camera movie house, here, makes money consistently out of two types of flicker which probably would not draw sufficiently to make the box office happy anywhere else along Broadway: films of Russian peasant life, heavy with Communist propaganda, and movies of exploration among savage tribes....The Soviet talks, no matter the quality, are good for a run....In the Union Square neighborhood, where you'd expect the Reds to congregate for the soap-box spiels, the entertainment which packs in the whippers is burlesque....

AND TEN MORE—Ten-word sum-ups of this dizzy map-dot are trickling in from here and yonder. Here's one from G. G. W. of White Plains, N. Y.: "A Giraffe With a Skyscraper Neck and Infernal Machine Heart." Then, from "Local Boy," of Arlene, Kas.: "The Town Where Two Times Two Is a Minus Sign." Funny, how some of the finest sounding ones are the hardest to discover meaning in—but what's yours?

TOKIO BANKERS' REFUSAL TO FINANCE WAR PLANS BROUGHT FASCIST ACTION

CHAS. P. STEWART

WASHINGTON.—News of a nationalistic outbreak in Japan is not regarded by students of the Orient as contradictory of the theory, expressed by such recent trans-Pacific visitors as Congressman Ernest W. Gibson, that the island empire is trending steadily in the direction of a Republican evolution. Indeed the suggestion is made that the fascist element may have been hastened toward a decision in favor of vigorous action by realization of liberalism's development. While the state department has been officially silent on the subject, leakage from government sources leaves no doubt that Washington has not been oblivious of recent symptoms, like the bombing of the American consulate at Nagasaki, as hinting at a threatening state of public opinion throughout Nippon. The extent of Japan's operations in the last few months on the Asiatic mainland also is attributed in large part to a desire by the militarists to arouse enthusiasm in a foreign venture as a sedative to domestic discontent.

Had they stopped with Manchuria it is felt that this plan might have succeeded temporarily, but the Shanghai campaign evidently was a mistake. Both army and navy men here agree that the unexpected strength of Chinese resistance must have been a serious shock to Japanese commanders. Despite attempts to gloss the matter over, Washington diplomats and military experts alike point out that it cannot be known in Japan that the mikado's arms have suffered a severe reverse. It is not denied that the expedition could have been brought to a creditable looking conclusion if funds had been available to continue it. At putting up the necessary money, however, Tokio's bankers drew the line.

The upshot is, as visioned here, that the military crowd finds itself in a bad jam. Fascism generally is alarmed for its status. The cabinet in office at the time the setback occurred and the bankers who balked at financing a more expensive war than they had anticipated. Foreign interference, of course, is blamed and the United States is blamed in particular for having been especially active in mobilizing it.

Incidentally such critics as Congressman Gibson risk the surmise that Republicanism has gained ground, although it is not deemed surprising that fascism, having more

"I FEAR NO POWER A WOMAN WIELDS" While I can have the woods and fields, With comradeship alone of gun, Gray marsh-wastes and the burning sun.

For aye the heart's most poignant pain Will wear away 'neath hall and rain, And rush of winds through branches bare

With something still to do and dare— The lonely watch beside the shore, The wild-fowl's cry, the sweep of oar, The paths of virgin sky to scan Untrod, and so uncursed by man.

A Man Plows a Field Life Flows Men

Then Comes the Harvest

Over on the side hill I see a man plowing.

A tiny little figure, two fine horses, a plow. He's turning a green hill to brown. I see the share of his plow shine in the morning sun.

I see the earth where he has turned it gleam dully. I hear the birds cry. I see them fluttering behind him as he moves slowly across the field.

I cannot see his face—he is too far away—but I can hear his distant shout.

A man is plowing, and there's something about that sight that moves you strangely. Something stirs within you and rises slowly to the surface.... I do not know what planting he intends. Maybe vegetables. Maybe corn. Maybe grain. Something, I know, that will still in seed for a while and then stir up tenderly, strongly through the good dark earth to the surface, and spring upwards.... I know, too, that he's planting faith and hope. A man cannot go despairingly to his field and work in the earth, and put seeds, down with desperation in his heart. He must feel that, out of his plowing, this seedling, this planting of things, something good must come—and that will be well in the autumn of the year when crops are harvested. The farmer is the finest optimist we know.

A man plows a field and life flows a man. The earth is a growing place for the farmer. The farmer is a growing place for life. Hope plows the man; faith plows him; his dreams plow deeply into him. Joy plows and so does sorrow. He is broken by disappointment, torn apart by agonies, made green again by wisdom and his own natural strength.... Out of him, out of the plowing, comes something fair at last. Out of him a harvest of gold and purple fruits. Out of the harvest an understanding of all his struggles and his endeavors, his dark defeats and his glowing triumphs. He is a rich field at last, a man who has done his part, offered himself boldly to living, been worked upon by the gleaming plow-share of Life, given up through the years the best that is in him.

A man plowing a field and life flows a man—there's nothing to break your heart in those two things and much to lift your heart to happiness.

How Enemy Skulks In Homes

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The wild animal lives in a constant state of danger. Every mouthful of food it eats must be punctuated by a look around to see that none of its enemies are waiting to pounce on it. Every move it makes is fraught with danger of which it is most instances, it is unaware.

Man in a state of civilization often congratulates himself that he is better off. Maybe he is, but our recent record of kidnappings, Dr. Clendingen murders, and gang warfares would not lead one to become too optimistic.

Many of our enemies, however, wear a perfect disguise. They look quite innocent and we return to them as to old friends and they make trouble for us over and over again.

It is some of these secret hidden enemies that I wish to discuss this week. It may be the band in your hat, the pillow you sleep on, the powder you use on your face, the nerve tonic you take occasionally, the polish on your shoes, the soap you use, the morning paper—the most commonplace and familiar things possible.

For instance that hat band. A man aged 45 writes that he has a peculiar eruption on his forehead. His wife thinks it is the heat—it has been a warm winter for the heavy hats we wear, and he perspires easily. His partner thinks something is the matter with his blood and has advised him to have a blood test. He, himself, once thought it was due to his hat band but he has tried putting a piece of cloth under his hat band and that did not help much. He does admit this much—the only way to clear it up is to go without a hat for a month or more.

The chances are good that it is the hat band. Why hat bands cause an itchy eruption on the skin of some people and not on others is a mystery which we have not up to the present solved completely. All we can say is that certain people have a sensitivity to the offending material. Excessive perspiration may produce a chemical in some hat band materials which is irritating to most skins.

Preventing contact with the hat band does not always cure up the dermatitis. Cloth protection alone is not necessarily enough as perspiration may be carried through the cloth to the hat band, dissolving the offending substance and bringing it again into contact with the skin.

Special hat bands may have to be worn by a very sensitive person. A test to see whether it is the hat band which is causing the trouble is to cut a small piece of the hat band out and paste it on the skin with a piece of adhesive plaster. If the skin is sensitive there will be an eruption where the hat band came into contact with the skin.

Treatment of the skin eruption—of hat band dermatitis—is by the use of X-rays and ultra-violet rays.

Older Man Not Congenial Mate

By MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

"Dear Virginia Lee: At the age of 26 I married a man of 40. My friends all told me there was too much difference in our ages. The first year I was very happy and wanted only to be alone with my husband. Since then I should like to go places with him, but he cannot be persuaded, and will have nothing to do with anything 'social.' He positively will not

I am now 30, full of energy and love of living. He is 44, settled and set, and wants only to sit on some evenings and read, smoke his pipe and work in the garden.

"I have made my bed and intend to lie on it. The only reason for this letter is the hope that it will help some other young person. I emphatically state that if you are a girl, don't marry an old bachelor of over 40 because by that time he is set and selfish, and you cannot change him. If you are a young man, don't wait until you are over 40, for by that time no girl wants you.

Disillusioned." Thank you for writing of your experience. The trouble is that when a girl is in love with an older man she can't see that the difference in ages matters at all. The boys near her own age don't interest her at all. They seem immature and foolish. The girl never will listen to advice from her friends against such a match. However, your letter may just be the needed word of warning to save some girl from your mistake.

I am glad you are not planning a divorce. You don't need advice, of course, but there ARE women to whom a husband who liked to stay at home and smoke, read and attend to a garden would seem an ideal mate. Ever think of that?

You can go to matinees, to social affairs of many sorts during the day while your husband is at work, and can occasionally have friends in for the evening—or does he object even to such sociability? And what bliss to spend long, quiet evenings reading or gardening? Will your husband read aloud to you while you sew? That always is such a pleasure.

However, I do sympathize with you about having to forego an occasional dance. But every man has some fault to spoil his perfection as a mate. And I suppose every woman has a small blemish. What is yours?

Little me! So your parents, and especially, are mean to you, and your brothers pick on you? Too bad. You are pretty young to go out much or have boy friends. You might be allowed occasionally to take in a show however. I should think, without injuring your mind or morals.

The best way to take what comes to one in life, little girl, is to make the best of it and see what fun you can get out of it. Do you suppose if you were very, very nice to your father and brothers you could get them to show you more consideration? Men like to be made much of, and many a girl has gotten her own way by making the men of her family think that they are "the nuts." Try it. Good luck.

"Dear Virginia Lee: I am referring to a letter written in your column and signed, 'Lovesick.' 'Lovesick's' letter seems to fit my case exactly, and I would like to know who Lovesick is. If he is the boy I have reference to I would be very glad to hear from him.

"True Blue." I'm afraid I don't know any more about him than his letter and signature reveal, so I can't help you out. Better not write that Lovesick is your friend, however, because the chances are against it.

Nose Can Be Transformed

By GLADYS GLAD

They call Jimmy Durante the Cyrano de Hollywood now—and there's no doubt but that the Durante nose runs a close second to that of the famed Cyrano de Bergerac for prominence. But Jimmy doesn't seem to mind the expansiveness of his nasal appendage.

It has, after all, played a fairly big part in his life as a comedian.

Women, however, are not, on the whole, professional comedienne. And an ill-shaped nose does not seem to them by any means a gift. Indeed, it often serves to distress them to such a point that they become self-conscious and develop inferiority complexes.

Nowadays, however, a woman need not regard a poorly-formed nose as a permanent barrier between herself and success. For in this enlightened age, plastic surgery has advanced to such a stage that even hooked noses, snub noses, humped noses and what have you can be transformed into actually attractive facial appendages.

Of course, "way, way back in the days when it was considered just for a jealous husband to cut off an erring wife's nose, plastic surgery was more a case of a hit and maybe miss affair. But today the truly excellent plastic surgeon is an individual who can operate without impeding his client's well-being. And he is more than that, too. For he is also a sculptor, possessed of definite artistic talent. He does not merely repair disfigured noses, he transforms them to the shape that you, you or you might have a weakness for at the time. He brings his ability as a sculptor into play. He studies your features in general, your facial contours. And he creates for you, in so far as he is able, the nose that would best harmonize with the remainder of your features, would best serve to enhance your attractiveness.

Don't misunderstand me. I am not attempting to ballyhoo plastic surgery in general. No ma'am. For I've seen unsuccessful operations, too, in the course of my career; disfigurements that untrained and unskilled surgeons have caused. What I am trying to point out is that successful plastic surgery operations are possible, their success being mainly dependent upon two points. And I shall discuss these two factors in my next article.

Trudy: If your face is round and full, part your hair on the side, and keep it off your forehead. Also bring your hair forward on your cheeks, and keep it flat over your ears.

Reducing and Developing

Marge and Meg: My "New Figure" booklet does, indeed, contain the information on body development and reduction. You should be able to develop your bust and reduce your waist and hips most effectively through its instructions.

Measurements

Toots: Roughly, your measurements should be: Bust 33 inches, waist 27 inches, hips 35 inches, thighs 18 inches, calf 13 inches, and ankle 8 1/2 inches. You should weigh about 120 pounds.

MENU HINT

Fruit Salad or Tomato Juice
Glazed Carrots Green Peas
Parsleyed Potatoes
Creamed Asparagus on Toast
Crisp Bacon
Pineapple and Rhubarb Pie
Coffee

This vegetable menu will serve six and is good enough for guests. Most of us like to cut down on our meat in the warmer weather and this menu will help. Even the crisp bacon may be omitted if you wish.

Today's Recipes

Pineapple and Rhubarb Pie—Three cups rhubarb, one cup crushed pineapple, two tablespoons lemon juice, one teaspoon grated lemon rind, one cup sugar, two tablespoons tapioca. Combine the ingredients in order named. Line a pie tin with pastry, sprinkle a tablespoon of flour over it and dot over with butter. Turn in the fruit mixture. Again sprinkle this with flour and dot over with butter. Cover with a top crust. Bake in a hot oven over 400 degrees Fahrenheit about 40 minutes, reducing the heat a bit at the end of the baking period.

Peanut Brittle Triffo

Here is something different to serve at your guest dinner or the party. One cup cooked and blanched rice, one-half pound peanut brittle, one-half pound marshmallows, one cup shredded pineapple, two tablespoons pineapple juice, two tablespoons brown sugar, one cup sugar, one teaspoon salt, one cup sugar, one teaspoon salt, one cup sugar, one teaspoon salt.

Today's Recipes

Ever Ready Rolls.—One cake compressed yeast, two and one-fourth cups water, scalded and cooled to 80 degrees Fahrenheit, one-half cup melted shortening, one cup sugar, one teaspoon salt, seven and one-half cups flour. Crumble yeast into bowl add water, melted shortening, sugar and salt and mix well. Sift flour once and measure. Add flour and work thoroughly kneading till smooth. Place in greased bowl, cover and let rise till double in bulk. Press down, knead slightly, rub surface with softened butter. Return to bowl, cover tightly with heavy waxed paper, then with a damp cloth, and place in refrigerator. Dampen cloth occasionally as it dries. When ready to use, remove amount needed and let stand in warm room to rise, then shape into rolls.

The O. S. and S. O. Home track and field team will be represented by entries in the 100 and 220-yard dash and the 880-yard relay race at the state scholastic finals in Columbus May 27-28.

The cadet athletes made a fine showing in the Class B division of the Southwestern Ohio district meet at Oxford last week-end.

Abraham Rowe was the owner of the pair of legs that materially aided the cadet team to win district honors.

Rowe ran second in the 100-yard dash, placed third in the 220-yard sprint and gave the cadet relay team a good lead to help it take second place in the 880-yard relay.

Rowe breathed the tape first in his preliminary heat in the century, recording the fast time of 10.5 seconds. Long, another cadet runner, won his preliminary 100-yard trial in 10.6 seconds. In the finals, Long drew a lane along a fence and in running the event, struck the fence several times with his waving arms. Still, he managed to finish fifth. Long turned in the fastest time in the class with a preliminary first place in the 220 of 23.2 seconds. He was beaten in the finals for fourth place in the last few steps of the race.

Perrin Smith, Cedarville flash, accounted the fastest schoolboy sprinter in this county, placed just ahead of him in the 220.

The cadets failed to qualify in any of the field events. Glendon Lakes developed knee trouble in the middle of last week or he might have placed in the pole vault, his favorite event.

The Downtowner softball team doesn't have to worry about meeting the champion Lang Chevrolet again, or vice versa, until August 8.

"Bunny" Purdom, statistician for the Downtowners, who has made a close examination of the National League schedule, explains that the next two dates on which the Downtowners and Langs are supposed to meet happen to be holidays, one on May 30, Memorial Day, and the next on July 4, Independence Day.

Local softball contests are not played on legal holidays, thereby postponing the next Lang-Downtown meeting until August 8, the last round of play.

Technically, as "Bunny" observes, the two postponements should make it necessary for the two teams to play a "triple-header" on August 8, this being the last time they are scheduled to play each other.

IN TOURNEY GAME

Jefferson Twp. High School of Bowersville champion of Greene County, defeated Adams Twp. champion of Champaign County, 4 to 1, in a seven inning contest in the first round of play Friday morning in the Southwestern District Class B high school elimination baseball tournament being held at the University of Dayton, Friday and Saturday.

Kenneth Jasper pitched a two-hit game for the Greene County diamond champs. Jefferson gathered eight hits and scored all its runs in the third inning. Adams tallied a run in the fifth to avert a shut-out.

Eight Class B schools, baseball champions of their respective counties, are enrolled in the district tournament.

Jefferson's second round opponent will be Dayton, which beat Elizabeth, of Miami County, in another first round contest Friday. The game will be played at 10 a. m. Saturday. A victory over Fairmont would put Jefferson in the finals.

MIDDLETOWN TO OPPOSE MERCHANTS

A Middletown, O., baseball club will provide the opposition for the reorganized Xenia Merchants in next Sunday's matinee contest on the Washington Park diamond. The Poastown Indians will not appear here until sometime in June, Manager Jess Chambliss announces. The Xenia lineup will again be featured by a generous sprinkling of local talent, as was the case last Sunday.

THE BIG FIVE

Babe Ruth singled and got his eighth home, accounting for five runs, in ten times at bat.

Lou Gehrig got five singles, accounting for three runs in eleven times at bat.

Al Simmons singled, accounting for one run, in three times at bat.

Hack Wilson singled, accounting for one run, in four times at bat.

Bill Terry was idle.

Bommarito, said to have a police record in several cities, will go on trial in common pleas court here Tuesday. Bouklias was shot on April 28.

Teams So Polite Each Refuses To Win Game

EX-HIGHS-CADETS TRY ALPHONSE AND GASTON STUNT HERE

Your Turn Next Policy In Run-Making Results 9 to 9

You have got to hand it to these American League softball teams. They are so polite and count an evening entirely wasted when they do not play a tie contest.

Central High started something when it played a pair of draw games in the first round of play. The Ex-High team was a party to one of the tie contests, and apparently was so pleased with this form of entertainment that it contrived to figure in another of the same variety Thursday night.

Meeting for the second time this season, the O. S. and S. O. Home Cadets and the Ex-Highs struggled evenly for twelve innings, after which the contest was declared a draw with the score-deadlocked at 9 to 9.

If this tie game stuff keeps up, about the only way the American League will complete its schedule will be for teams in this circuit to play as many innings as possible before darkness, and then flip a coin to decide the winner.

Over the twelve-inning route, the cadets accumulated fifteen hits and the Ex-Highs assembled twelve, an average of one an inning. The Ex-Highs fielded well, particularly Elwood Shaffer, at third and Haller at shortstop, both of whom had plenty of chances.

Rhoades, cadet second baseman, had five putouts and seven assists without a fielding slip.

During the course of the long, drawn-out contest, the lead alternated frequently. The Ex-Highs were ahead 2 to 0 at the end of the fourth. The cadets tied up matters in the fifth and took a one-run lead in the sixth. The advantage shifted to the Ex-Highs in the seventh, the cadets trailing, 5 to 4.

Two runs in the eighth put the Home out in front again, 6 to 5. In the exciting ninth round, the Ex-Highs scored three times and the cadets twice, squaring the count at 8 to 8 and forcing the game into extra innings.

The tenth was scoreless, but in the eleventh a single by Trubee, an error and a hit by Trumppour gave the cadets a run after the first two batters had been retired. The Ex-Highs also chased a run over the plate on Dinwiddie's single, an out at first and an error. In the twelfth on base by virtue of hits by Trumppour and Collins, with only one out, but the next two batters raised infield flies. The Ex-Highs also could not break the tie in their half of the twelfth and the two teams called it quits.

Trumppour got three of the cadet hits, while Fletcher, Shaffer, Price and Dinwiddie each hit safely twice for the Ex-Highs. Robert Jones pitched for the cadets and Hornick for the Ex-Highs. Better fielding would probably have resulted in a victory for the Home team, which made eight errors.

The Lang Chevrolet and Springfield Valley meet in a National League game Friday night.

Attendance of nearly 3,000 spectators is predicted for the second annual Mid-Western Relays scheduled to be staged under auspices of Wilberforce University at the university athletic field Saturday afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock.

With six squads of athletes entered, many existing track and field records are expected to be torn to shreds.

Gaston Lewis, head coach of Alabama State Teachers College, a native of Xenia, arrived at Wilberforce Friday with a group of athletes. Kentucky State, Louisville Municipal, West Virginia State and a special team from Gary, Ind. are expected to arrive late Friday afternoon in time to have a drill session on the Wilberforce cinder path.

MIAMI VALLEY TRAFFIC CLUB'S GOLFERS ENJOY OUTING IN XENIA

A. C. Bales, Dayton, former Xenian and H. S. Kintler, Cincinnati, who tied for low net score with 64 each, led the field of six qualifiers for the Miami Valley Traffic Club's annual golf tournament at the second golf outing of the season at the Xenia Country Club Thursday.

The four others who qualified here Thursday were R. L. Barrowman, Toledo, with a 67; C. W. McGuff, Dayton, with a 69; W. C. Jacobs, Cincinnati with a 67 and G.

L. Halencomp, Cincinnati, with a 70.

Qualifying rounds in the annual tournament are played at successive monthly golf outings during the summer and the winner will be decided at the final outing at the Miami Valley Golf Club in Dayton late in August. The winner receives a club trophy.

Bales and Kintler held the low net score but J. H. Norwood, Dayton, with an 83, shot the low gross total for the qualifying round here. Prizes in the blind bogey tournament were won by J. J. McGuffin, E. G. Waterman and W. G. Lacey, all of Cincinnati. Guest prizes were awarded Dr. W. T. Ungard, E. D. Martin and E. H. Heathman, all of Xenia.

About sixty members from Xenia, Cincinnati, Springfield, Osborn, Cincinnati and Toledo participated in the tourney at the club and there were covers for about seventy-five at the dinner that followed at the club house. Lawrence Landaker, of the Hoover and Allison Co., a Xenia member of the club, had charge of the local arrangements for the outing.

Steel common touched 29½ up 1½ points and held most of the gain. Westinghouse Electric and General Electric were firm.

APPEALS TO OBTAIN COMPENSATION FOR INJURIES IN 1930

Appealing from an adverse decision of the Ohio Industrial Commission, Alfonso Saunders, Xenia, has brought suit in Common Pleas Court, requesting that a jury be impaneled to determine his rights with respect to further participation in the benefits of the state insurance fund.

Saunders asserts that he suffered serious injuries July 16, 1930, arising from his employment for Samuel Plato, who was a subscriber to the state insurance fund.

Declaring that he was paid compensation, based on his weekly wage of $23.59, only for the period from July 27 to December 7, 1930, Saunders claims he made application for additional compensation for continued disability, but that the claim was denied by the industrial commission.

The plaintiff desires also to be awarded an allowance for hospital and medical expenses. Attorney G. H. Thorne represents Saunders.

Spring Valley News

Attics and trunks were rumaged to furnish costumes for the Old Fashioned party held Friday evening, May 15, by Class No. 2 of the M. E. Sunday School, at the home of Mrs. R. Stingley, with Miss Bessie Fitch and Miss Edna Elam acting as assisting hostesses.

The evening was spent most enjoyably by playing many old fashioned games, although a great part of the amusement was furnished by inspecting the costumes worn. These dated from pre-Civil War days to the present. The oldest costume is treasured by Miss Rebecca Saunders as being over ninety years old. The silk was in perfect condition. It was worn by Miss Alice Oglesbee. Wedding and graduation gowns of various periods were much in evidence, with mutton leg sleeves taking most of the honors. It was decided that the ladies of the "gay nineties" had not developed arms or waist lines to the extent of the present wearers.

The refreshments consisting of Mary Anna filled with strawberries topped with ice cream was served on lovely old china plates, while the napkins carried out the same idea.

Altogether it was one of the most enjoyable social evenings ever spent by the class.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Norris, Miss Delcie Moore and Mr. and Mrs. John Hanby, visited Mr. and Mrs. Otto Moore and other relatives Sunday.

Mrs. G. V. Sims, who has been sick for the past month is now able to be out.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Van Winkle of Cincinnati and Mrs. Mosby Simmons and daughter Maralyn of Chicago visited Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Walton Saturday.

Miss Gladys Osborn was visiting in Dayton Monday.

Mrs. Mary Martin moved Monday from Dayton to the Bryon Kyne property on Main St.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Butcke and son of Cincinnati, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Butcke, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Wheeler of Dayton, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Butcke.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wood and Mr. and Mrs. James Pixx have moved from Dayton to their farm home near Roxana.

Mrs. Mary Middleton, her nephew and family were at Waynesville Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Vetter spent a part of last week with her son and daughter-in-law of Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters and family of New Lebanon, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Smith and Mr. and Mrs. David Barger and daughter of Miami, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Holland and family had for their guests Sunday Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Applegate, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Bootes, Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Trubee, Miss Dot Bootes and Mr. Rice, all of Dayton and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Miers and daughters of New Burlington and Mr. Lewis Ellenger of Spring Valley.

Miss Ruth Holland is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Trubee and daughter of Dayton.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Whitaker of Morrow, visited relatives here Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Walton and family are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Seth Thomas of Dayton.

Teddy Thomas who has been visiting his grandparents here returned to his home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Vandeman and daughter and Mr. John Peterson and daughter, Vera, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith Sunday. Mr. Harold Humble was a week end guest of the Smiths.

Mr. Todd Walton, Jr., was held up in Dayton Monday night and relieved of thirty-eight dollars.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clevenger and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Compton, Jean and Phyllis were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Gorham of Xenia.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Randall of Xenia, Mr. and Mrs. James Wakely and daughter of Waynesville and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holly of Clarksville visited Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Haines Sunday.

Miss Mary Katherine Copey is spending the week with relatives in Xenia.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Barnard and children spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bolton of Connersville, Ind.

Misses Betty Rowley, Janice Critos and Dorothy Alexander are spending the week at Oxford.

Miss Nora Houston bought the Josephine Peterson property which was sold Saturday.

Miss Mary Kyne visited relatives in Urbana this week.

Mrs. Belle Anderson and Miss Jennie St. John were guests of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. St. John Sunday. Rev. and Mrs. Bogan, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Arch Copey, Mrs. Vern Copey and son Earl, Mrs. Will Copey, Flora Mason attended the funeral services of Mr. Bert Bogan at Platfork Tuesday. Rev. Bogan and Mr. Bert Bogan were brothers.

COME TO CHURCH SUNDAY

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Market at King
W. H. Tilford, Pastor

A common expression of today is "I am disillusioned", meaning that some previous idea was an illusion and they have had their mind enlightened. There are many illusions in the world, mirages on the desert of time. Too many things prove illusive—but there is one place where you can find essentials—in fellowship with Christ at church. Hear this message "Illusions Versus Substantials."

9:15 a. m.—Sunday School. A class for your age, come.

10:30 a. m.—Morning worship. Sermon theme: "Illusions Versus Substantials." Music by the choir. Children's object lesson—let your children stay for this service. They are dismissed if you want them home a little after eleven o'clock.

7:30 p. m.—Quartet union services, Reformed Church, Rev. Wm. H. Tilford preacher for the evening. Subject "You—Today and Tomorrow."

Think not that you have all the say about your life—you cannot add one inch to your height—nor can you count the hairs of your head or make one white or black, by natural process. There are thousands of movements buffeting your life over which you have no control. God alone offers help—He directs life aright. Attend church.

FIRST LUTHERAN CHURCH

W. Main St.
Adrian Lebold, Pastor

A guilty conscience causes a lot of unnecessary worry; God's willingness to forgive is hard for the sinner to realize.

9:15 Sunday School. Lesson: "Just Brothers." (Genesis 33; 1-11). C. F. Mollage, Supt. Intermediate superintendent presiding. George Holstein will teach the Brotherhood Class.

10:30—Morning worship. Sermon, "Vitality and Vision." Members of Delta Sigma Phi Fraternity of Wittenberg College, Springfield, will attend this service in a body.

6:15 p. m. Luther League. Chas. Reynolds and the pastor will have charge.

7:30 p. m. Union services at the First-Reformed Church with the Rev. Wm. H. Tilford, preaching. Members of the Dorcas class will meet at the home of Mrs. Lewis Urschel, E. Church St., Wednesday, at 7:30 p. m.

The more there is to be forgiven the bigger the man who forgives; Esau was such a man. Forced generosity, gifts offered out of fear, are not much credit to the giver. Come to church Sunday, for your soul's sake. You count one. A glad hand welcomes you here.

What Better Can We Do Than Regularly

For the things which are seen are temporal; but the things which are not seen are eternal.

—II Corinthians 4:18

Values

"Nowadays people know the price of everything and the value of nothing," remarked a character in one of Oscar Wilde's books. To some it may seem strange that Salvation—the one thing without price—is at the same time the thing of greatest value, but to those of understanding heart the equation could have no other balance. Attend Church regularly—it may create for you a new standard of values.

The Invisible

In determining the value of a thing endurance is an important consideration. The great question is: "Will it last?" We are living in a world where the best things—those that last—are silent and invisible. Love, Truth, Hope, Faith, Purity—these are eternal treasures, but they cannot be seen or heard.

In a world where there is much noise and speed and show, we are prone to neglect the great, quiet things that last. Therefore, we need the Church. It places the spiritual above the material, the eternal above the transient.

Classified Advertising Brings Results

Let THE GAZETTE classified advertising section help you in your want problems.

Just telephone numbers 800 or 111 and ask for an ad taker. A trained ad writer will be glad to assist you in preparing your copy in order to obtain the best results.

All advertising copy, however, should be in the GAZETTE office not later than 9:30 a. m. of the day it is intended for publication. This guarantees publication on that day and insures proper set-up for your copy.

Errors, typographical or otherwise, will be corrected if notice is given immediately after the first insertion. THE GAZETTE cannot be responsible for more than one incorrect insertion unless proper notice has been given before the next insertion.

The GAZETTE must reserve the right to restrict all advertisements to proper classification, style and type and to edit or reject any advertisement.

Radio Fans Will Send Story For Movie's End

The most novel idea to come out of Hollywood in a long time is RKO's plan for "The Phantom of Crestwood," an original mystery story by Bartlett Cormack.

Before the thriller is made into a picture, it will be broadcast over the country as a radio serial, with the peculiarity, however, that there will be no solution. Listeners of the air will be offered prizes to supply this and the prize-winning deductions will be written in as the finish of the picture.

This is probably the first instance of a screen story being written deliberately for a preview over the air. The picture will be a Merian C. Cooper production.

Pictures that challenge the thinking public, which are refreshingly clean and still excellent enertainment, are praised in the bulletin of the motion picture guide of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

"The Man Who Played God," "The Wet Parade," "Young America" and "The Doomed Battalion" are pictures thus extolled by the organization as being the type of pictures to support. In its list of approved pictures, the committee places Metro's "When a Feller Needs a Friend" at the top of the list.

This is the film based on the novel "Limpy" by William Johnston and brings Jackie Cooper and Chic Sala together. Two other pictures with No. 1 rating are "Symphony of Six Million," the RKO-Pathe version of Fannie Hurst's story of life in the Ghetto, featuring Ricardo Cortez and "The Doomed Battalion," a Universal war story laid in the Tyrolean mountains.

Fox's picture, "Young America," made from a play by Fred Ballard; "The Strange Case of Clara Deane," a Paramount version of Arthur M. Brilliant's play; "So Big," the Warner Bros. talkie version of Edna Ferber's novel with Barbara Stanwyck in Colleen Moore's old silent role; "The Miracle Man," Paramount's revival of a great silent picture, with Sylvia Sydney, Chester Morris and Irving Pichel starring; "Tarzan," Metro's charac-

The striking Detroit baseball players, who refused to meet the Athletics Sunday because their star outfielder, Ty Cobb, had not been reinstated, have agreed to resume their schedule.

Wife Preservers

Every dress has its belt nowadays. Sometimes the belt for the particular dress is missing. To remedy this an extra tie rack placed in the clothes closet and used only for belts is helpful.
